The DIMMER VIEW

Our Two-Court System; Weak Judiciary; Strong Bureau

Within the same week we were handed reports on the handling of two kinds of crime.

One, in a crime against the people, it was cited that the 20-year-old Chula Vista killer, Joseph Bernard Morse, would be retried. A Supreme Court ruling cancelled his conviction for having killed mother and 12-year old crippled sister. He had just before these crimes assaulted an 18-year old neighbor girl. He came home with a large rock hidden in his shirt. He beat his mother into insensibility and then turned on his sister who suffered debilitating cystic fibrosis. Her screams were so loud and pitiful that he covered her head with some pillows. She was still moaning so he obtained a bat and proceeded to finish the job with that. He then picked up the rock and finished the job on his mother.

In San Diego County jail where he awaited formal sentencing for the slaying of his sister and mother, he garrotted a 23-year old panhandler Thomas Larry Taddei through the cell bars. He said he killed Taddei because he owed Morse a carton of cigarettes Taddei lost to him in a domino game.

Morse will get a new, expensive trial, because, the court said, he had not been advised by the police that he need not

MAGICIAN — Pretty Judy James, an employee of Linda's, points a pretty toe at an unpretty hole in the parking area on the south side of Broadway, hoping the hole will disappear as if by magic.

She has a reason for optimism. Scores of such holes were recently eliminated in a 55,000 square-foot improvement which left very few holes yet to be filled. The improvement was provided by R. C. Speaks, local contractor, who has also sealed and sanded the area both in front and back parking areas. The sand, visible behind Judy, will be swept away in about 60 days, according to Speaks. It's part of the face-lifting Lemon Grove is enjoying as Old Time Days approaches.

2 Juveniles Apprehended In School Break-Ins

Two juveniles who broke in to Kempton Elementary School on April 7 and also Avondale and San Miguel Schools, were apprehended and referred to juvenile court, according to Kempton Elementary Principal, Dr. Jacobs.

Dr. Jacobs praised the cooperation of certain parents and the work of deputy J. R. Whalen.

The two boys had broken in to the schools and taken food-stuffs in quantity from the schools' cafeterias. Also taken was money, (a couple hundred dollars according to Principal

'Biggest' Narcotics Raid Traps 6 in Spring Valley

Six Spring Valley residents were arrested Saturday in San Diego County's biggest narcotics raid.

In all, 97 persons were seized; 27 of whom were juveniles.

Five months of undercover work went into the investigation and 300 law officers took part.

The county-wide raids were supervised by Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Ryan, head of the Sheriff's narcotics squad. Sgt.

At Avondale the boys broke a window to gain entrance, and once inside popped a fire extinguisher and had a mock fight, throwing food.

According to Principal Dr. Jacobs, much of the stolen food was returned along with some of the stolen money.

OFF FOR APOLLO — Elmer Heeren, Spring Valley man, checks out crane operation. Equipment is similar to that he will use to help lift mooncraft from sea later this month.

Spring Valley Man To Be There When Moonship Returns

A Spring Valley expert on electric crane maintenance and repair has received a special assignment in support of the Apollo Ten moon flight.

Heavy Duty Electrician Elmer Heeren of 10126 Campo rd., an employee of the Navy Public Works Center Transportation Department boarded the USS Princeton at Pearl Harbor this week for two weeks to maintain the LeTourneau 30-ton crane that will be used to move the moonship about the deck after its retrieval late this month.

Two years ago, the Navy Public Works Center sent Heeren to the LeTourneau factory in Longview, Texas, where he learned how to maintain and repair the company's crash cranes that are used aboard aircraft carriers. Since that time his services have been in great demand throughout the Pacific.

Last year, he was rushed to San Francisco during the Labor Day holiday to repair the crash crane on the USS Ranger. That crane, he recalls, was completely out of commission, but he was able to make on-the-spot fixes to get it temporarily in service until parts could be sent from the Navy

Public Works Center, San Diego.

Not long ago, Heeren was flown to the USS Enterprise, just before the giant carrier left Pearl Harbor. He fixed the Enterprise crash crane in two days with the help of the Pearl Harbor Shipyard personnel and facilities.

Jimmy Durante Stars This Year At Del Mar Fair

DEL MAR — Although it has a big birthday this year too — its 80th — the Southern California Exposition instead will observe San Diego's 200th during this year's 12-day run, June 25 through July 6.

It was actually 89 years ago that the Exposition began life as "The Agricultural and Horticultural Fair for the County of San Diego," Sept. 22-23, 1880, at National City under auspices of the National Ranch Grange.

This year's whopping fair, sponsored now by the 22nd District Agricultural Assn., is expected to draw record crowds of 425,000 for the 12 days.

Headlining this year's Exposition will be three big names of the show world — Jimmy Durante, Dale Robertson, and Ponce Ponce — who will perform on the grandstand stage. A daily championship rodeo also will be offered the final six afternoons. All the shows are free to fairgoers.

Tom Hernandez, the Exposition's perennial "Don Diego" will be back for his 21st year, and as usual, he'll have with him the Spanish-costumed Fairest of the Fair — selected from among 25 local queens at the annual county-wide Fairest pageant June 10.

The Exposition's 200th anniversary recognition will be its own theme display, depicting the raising of the cross July 16, 1769, on Presidio Hill, and a newly-decorated front gate that will feature a spinning 12-foot 200th coin, and a Mission facade.

Besides the fair's historic display, 65 exhibits in mammoth Exhibit Hall will carry out the 200th theme.

Traffic Changes Set For La Mesa

Traffic will be rerouted in downtown La Mesa to provide more parking and less congestion for shoppers, City Council decided.

It will affect traffic feeding into the Palm ave.-La Mesa blvd. intersection and provide diagonal parking for 54 more vehicles.

Traffic will be diverted around the city center by way of Lemon and University avenues.

It is designed to put downtown La Mesa on a more competitive footing with shopping centers by providing more parking and easier access.

More changes are in the works, the Council indicated.

High Density Rezone Rejected For South Sweetwater Project

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The county planning commission Friday refused to recommend a La Presa rezoning that would have allowed G. A. Saterbak and H. J. Medina to build an apartment complex between Sweetwater road and the South Bay Freeway.

But the commission also did not deny the request in recognition that the E-1 (one acre-estate) zone is not suitable for the area.

Saterbak was invited to confer with the department to see if a neighborhood housing plan can be developed in which one apartment unit for each 3,000 square feet of land would be permissible with a change of zoning.

The county lacks, but is working on, a proper tool for complex development. R-2 or R-2-A zones allow one dwelling unit per each 3,000 square feet of land.

The more intensive R-3 or R-4 apartment zones allow one unit for each 1,000 square feet of land, but there is nothing in between.

Saterbak said the section is not suitable for single family development because of the adjacent M and M-2 zone at Elkton Place where an unsightly, he said, trucking yard is located.

An R-3 rezoning was recommended by the commission for six acres on the east side of Sweetwater Springs blvd. across the road from Monte Vista High School.

An R-2 (duplex) zone from R-1-A (single family) in La Presa was also turned down by the commission. It had been requested by Vernon Scott for 11,250 square feet on the east side of Concepcion ave. about 85 feet north of St. George street.

L.G. School Board Sets Policy on Minority Grievances

A statement position paper was accepted by the Lemon Grove School Board Monday night from Superintendent Byron Netzeley. Netzeley responding to a recitation of grievances by a committee of Concerned Parents of the Lemon Grove School District concerning the black and Mexican-American vs. white employment ratio in the district. The Concerned Parents group, comprised predominantly of white parents, also contended that too little material is available in Lemon Grove schools concerning the cultures of minority races.

A subsidiary grievance was that of the treatment of minority group children on school buses. This charge brought Bus Supervisor George Dickinson to his feet to complain that such charges are causing two standards of treatment to bus-riding pupils. "We can't have safe driving if youngsters are fighting and screaming on the buses. We can't have discipline if we are intimidated when we correct black pupils," he said.

Netzeley's position paper gave guidance for reducing incidents that may have racial overtones. "There is a need for awareness of the feelings and concerns for minority groups," he reported. There must be better communications between parents and teachers. But we must not think of such problems in terms of preferential treatment for black children. We must view it as a good and equal educational opportunity for every pupil."

He said that more material on black history and heritage is being made available in the school libraries as funds become available.

He said that a pre-school workshop for new teachers would be a human relations seminar. He also explained that eight multi-racial instructors were already employed by the district and that others are being employed as qualified ones become available.

Trustee Robert Sjogren suggested that the Concerned Parents group supply "stewardesses" to ride the buses to give pupils. "Stewardesses" would be mothers of the Concerned Parents group. A member agreed.

Tom Higdon reminded that the board had investigated each complaint and will correct inequities. "We are after justice and equality. We are not (investigating) just to protect the establishment," he added.

New, Old Elements To Add To Old Time Days Parade

In a closed meeting of the Lemon Grove Old Time Days Parade Committee held May 7 it was announced that this year's event will have some old and some new attractions.

A new banner with yellow satin background and green lettering made by Joyce Foss will read "Lemon Grove".

It is large enough to require three boys to hoist it. And this item will decorate the Armed Forces Day Parade in downtown San Diego May 17.

This banner will also be a bright part of the LG O.T.D. Parade, scheduled May 24.

County Eyes Record Budget

The largest budget in history was presented to the County Board of Supervisors Monday by County Administrator Fred Morey.

The budget was $41,877,425 — 20 per cent — higher than last year's.

A record $201,771,464 will be spent in 1969-70 unless supervisors pare recommended expenditures.

Final budget hearing is set for 2 p.m. June 10.

Vandals Break Store Window

A large, plate glass window in the former Burrington's Shoe store, at 7959 Broadway, was broken out during the weekend. The storeroom has been unoccupied for several years.

The glass, approximately 10 feet by 10 feet, will cost about $300 to replace.

The building is owned by Jack Holt who lives in the storeroom at 7957 Broadway.

Suspects are being sought by sheriff's deputies.

Trailer Rules Listed by CHP

With the advent of the camping season, an increasing number of California families will take to the roads with a trailer attached to the family car.

The California Highway Patrol has available in its 70 area offices throughout the state a free brochure, "Trailer-ing in California." It is a helpful compilation of information for people who own or rent trailers.

Some of the highlights:

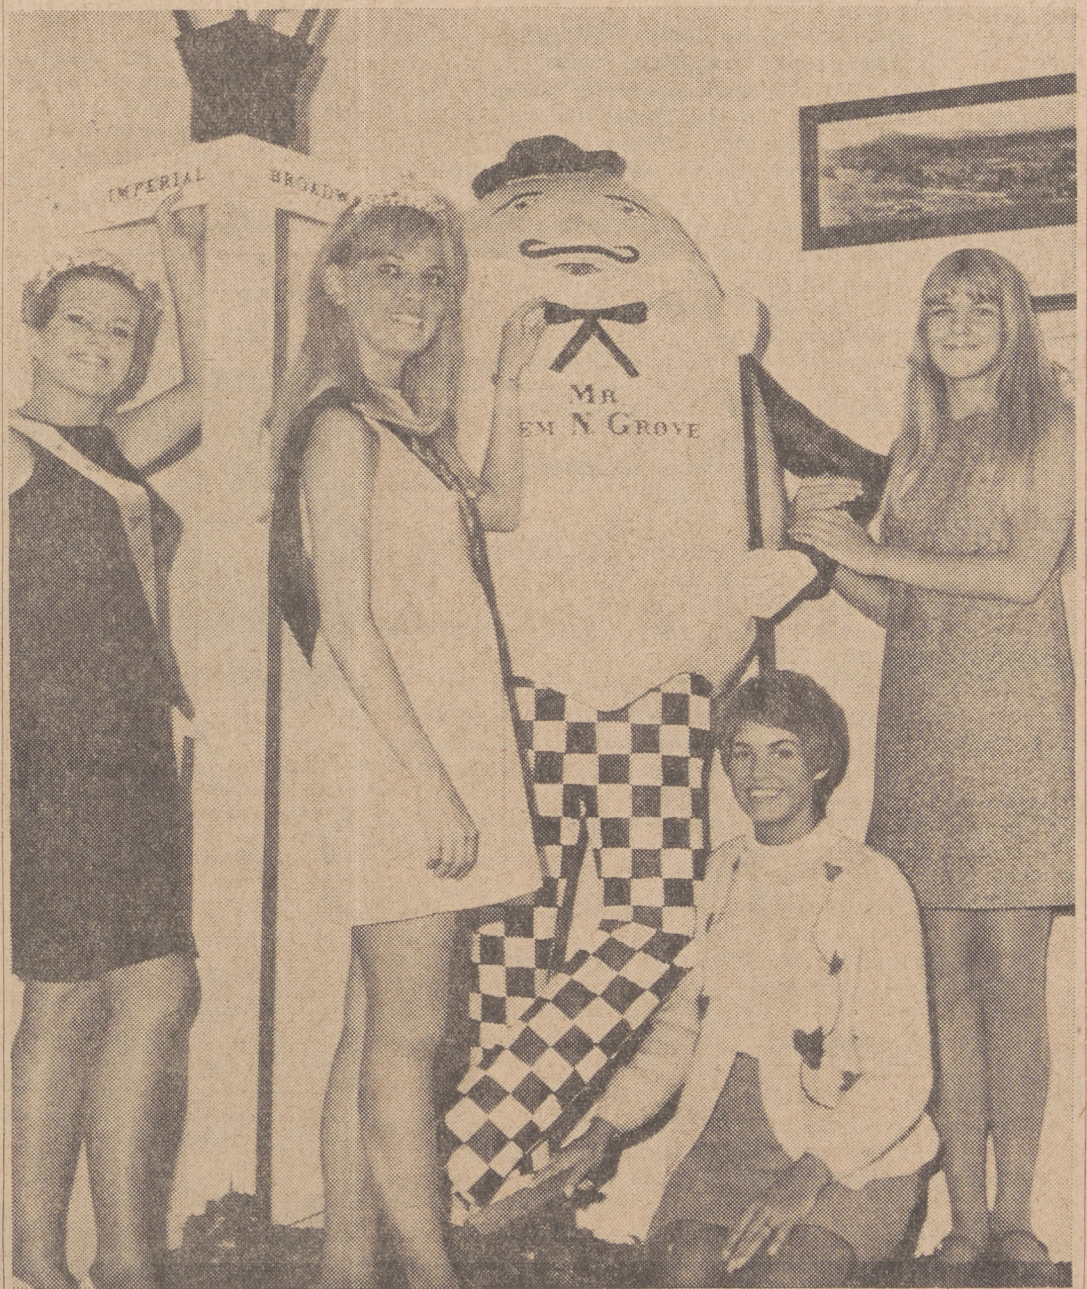

1. The maximum speed limit with trailers is 55 miles per hour.
2. On two-lane roads, when five or more vehicles are following, the trailer-vehicle is required to turn off the roadway.
3. On two-lane highways, vehicles pulling trailers must stay at least 500 feet behind any truck or any vehicle pulling a trailer, except when preparing to pass.
4. Trailer coaches must carry three red electric lanterns, red emergency reflectors, or pot torches to be set out if the coach is disabled on or within 10 feet of the roadway during darkness.
5. Headlights, or equalizing hitch, should be adjusted so the added weight of the trailer does not cause glare in the eyes of oncoming drivers.
6. The law requires two rear-view mirrors, one on each side of the towing vehicle.

SW College Newspaper Cops Superior Ratings

Southwestern College's weekly newspaper, The American, has earned its fourth consecutive All American rating, newspaper advisor Tom Pasqua has announced.

The superior rating is the highest given by the Associated Collegiate Press at the University of Minnesota.

All pre-Christmas fall semester issues of the 4 page tabloid edited by Phyllis Gopen were submitted to the ACP for evaluation.

The eight-year-old newspaper earned 3,810 points on a scale of 4,000 for perfect. In Southwestern's class of weekly junior college newspapers, 3,800 points was the minimum All American.

Miss Gopen, a sophomore who is also the secretary for the Associated Student Organization, took over the chief editing job on short notice as the fall semester began.

Specifically, the Athapascan was rated highest in layout and coverage. The newspaper scored perfectly in page one makeup, sports display, and inside news page layout. In news coverage, the newspaper scored perfect points in news sources, balance, and treatment.

The newspaper's lowest rating came in physical properties of headlines, headline variety of types, typography and printing. The newspaper is printed by the offset method. Other perfectly scored sub-categories included editorials, editorial page feature coverage, sports coverage and picture content.

J.W. Congregations To Attend L.A. Meet

Announcement for an International Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses was made this week by Overseer Edgar A. Flinn, representing the Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and La Mesa congregations. It is styled "Peace On Earth" Assembly and is expected to draw 55,000 to the Dodger Stadium in Los Angeles July 14 through July 20.

In preparation for the convention two preliminary meetings are now scheduled. One for the rooming work will outline the search for rooms to house the thousands of delegates that will converge on the city. The other, an organizational meeting, will arrange the many departments needed to run a convention of this size.

The three local congregations will be among the delegates. "That does not mean we send a few members to represent each congregation," Overseer Flinn stated, "but all, including women and children, are delegates."

New President Named

Valley Lady Retires
As President Of Musical Foundation

Vere Wolf was elected incoming president for 1969-1970 of the San Diego Musical Merit Foundation at the May meeting of the Board of Management held in Spring Valley at the home of the retiring president, Mrs. J. A. De Nero.

Wolf has been music librarian at the San Diego Central Library for fifteen years. He holds advanced degrees from the Universities of Wisconsin and Illinois.

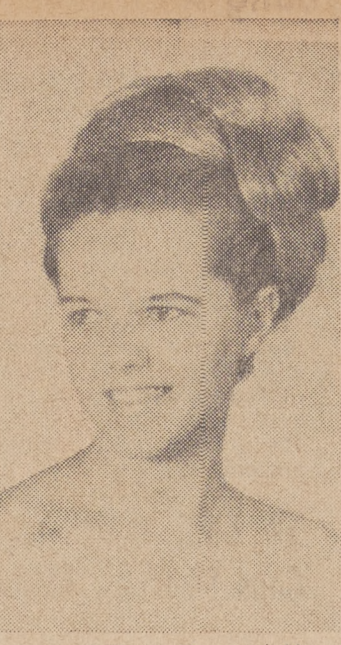

Previous to this election he has been program chairman for the Foundation for three years. He supplies program notes for the Foundation for three years. He supplies program notes for the San Diego Symphony, gives the pre-opera lectures at the library and organizes the Library's regular chamber music series.

Elected with Wolf were four vice-presidents: Dr. Conrad Brudner in charge of auditions; Mrs. Thorwald Lambert, programs; Mrs. Donald Smith, hospitality; and Mrs. Donald L. Lewis, public relations.

Mrs. Vere Wolf was elected treasurer; Miss Anne Grace Poindexter, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Stephenson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Edward Daggendorf, membership chairman; Mrs. Fred Quinn, historian; and Mrs. Harold Warner, year book chairman.

New officers will be installed at the annual awards banquet to be held at the San Diego Women's Club on June 28. The Foundation's scholarship award winners will be presented at the ceremony.

These winners will be selected at the final additions to be held on June 16 in the Music Auditorium of San Diego State College.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph B. Shaffer, of 8842 Harness st., Spring Valley, announce the engagement of their daughter Mary, to Richard Glen Marrs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland W. Marrs, of El Cajon.

The bride-elect was graduated from Mt. Miguel High school and is now attending Grossmont College.

The bridegroom-to-be is attending his junior year at State.

An announcement party was held at the home of the bride-elect's parents for the couple.

Desert Flowers
Not for Picking

Heavy rains earlier this year have resulted in an abundance of wild flowers for the enjoyment of all San Diego County residents and visitors, according to James Moon, County Agricultural Commissioner. Visible now, along the coast, to the foothills and lower elevation they are beginning to appear in the upper elevations.

Moon, however, reminds flower lovers that it is illegal to pick any of these flowers, as well as any kind of native foliage, trees, or shrubs, from either public or private lands. It is not only park land that is subject to ordinances prohibiting the picking or destruction of any native plants. Transplanting any of the plants is also illegal.

Collection is allowed on private property if the collector has written permission of the owner of the land.

Also, the County Department of Agriculture may issue collection permits to duly accredited representatives of any public library, museum, school, scientific or other educational institution, or to herbarium and scientific collectors, to take such plants or flowers for educational or scientific purposes.

Collectors are reminded that such permits do not authorize the picking of native foliage from any public parks nor private lands without permission of the owner.

Residency Proof
Needed For Welfare

SACRAMENTO — Spencer Williams said this week that California counties have been notified that although the Supreme Court abolished residency time limits for welfare eligibility, residency, itself, is still required.

"We intend, of course, to comply fully with the decision of the Court, but close study shows neither the Supreme Court decision nor the District Court injunction eliminate the basic requirement of state residency for public assistance," Williams, Secretary of the Human Relations Agency said.

"While the court decision encourages persons in other states to become residents of California for instant welfare, I want to take every step possible to insure that we don't add to the taxpayer's burden by granting aid to vacationers and transients," Williams said.

The information was communicated to the counties in a circular letter to county welfare departments sent out by State Welfare Director John C. Montgomery, pointing out the need to verify fully that applicants for aid are in fact residents of California.

"State residence, determined by physical presence and intent, is still a prerequisite to eligibility in each of the public assistance programs," Montgomery's letter advised.

Williams said the counties are also being advised that the same legal enactment requires aid to be discontinued when a California welfare recipient moves to another state with the intention of making that state his home.

Meanwhile, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee has approved legislation by Assemblyman John Stull (R-Leucadia) to require counties to be notified on hearings appealing a county's denial for welfare aid.

Under existing law the person may appeal to the state welfare board and the county is notified, however, on future re-hearings or if the matter is appealed to the courts, counties are not required to be notified.

"This places the counties, which are interested parties to such hearings, in a position of not being represented at such hearings," Stull said.

The bill requires the State Director of Social Welfare to notify counties on any subsequent appeals or court actions.

Armed Forces Day In Coronado

Navy Amphibious Operations Will Highlight 'Open House'

A special demonstration of amphibious operations by the Underwater Demolition Team 11 (UDT) will highlight the Armed Forces Day "Open House" at the Naval Amphibious Base, Coronado, May 17.

On hand to view the event will be Hollywood actress Joy Wilkerson, who was named Miss South Vietnam by the men of all the armed services stationed there. She is a graduate of San Diego's Hoover High School.

Miss Wilkerson will also ride the Amphibious Force float in the Armed Forces Day parade in downtown San Diego earlier in the day.

The public is invited to observe the comprehensive presentation by the Underwater Demolition Team beginning at 3 p.m. on Turner Field. First to be seen will be a parade of boats specially designed for riverine and clandestine operations.

Following the parade a demolition team will make an assault of the beach and set up demolition charges. The team will quickly be recovered and the charges will be set off once the beach is cleared. At this time a helicopter will drop another combat team into the water which will be picked up by a recovery boat at top speed.

To climax the demonstration, four experts from the UDT-SEAL Parachute Exhibition Team will free-fall 7,500 feet before pulling their ripcords. The team is headed by Senior Chief Photographer's Mate Gene M. Gagliardi, Jr., of 8230 Irvington ave., Mission Valley.

The "Open House" begins at 10 a.m. and promises to be an exciting event for both young and old. Other events include an Apollo space capsule mock-up with an actual recovery team on hand, rides in Navy amphibious vehicles, and music by two bands.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

Presently there is an exhibition from Mexico in Old San Diego. Among the most interesting sights there is the one which is called the "Voladores de Papantla." Can you tell me what the name "Voladores de Papantla" means in English and something about the presentation?

First, "voladores" means "flyers," or "men who fly." The origin of this word is from the verb "volar" which means "to fly." The second part of their name, "Papantla," identifies the names of an Indian tribe and village in Mexico. Therefore, the complete name would be translated "The Flyers from the Village of Papantla."

The five sturdy little men who perform their breath-taking "flying" act climb a pole which reaches over one hundred feet in the air. Four of these "Voladores," with ropes around their waists, make a simultaneous twenty-five foot free-fall from a spindle on top of the pole before the ropes (opposite ends tied to the spindle) break their fall and send them into a counter-clockwise motion around the pole. As the four men spin to the ground, the fifth man plays a flute and dances from the top center of the pole.

Even though they are called by the Spanish name "Voladores," these men speak no Spanish, only the Indian dialect of Papantla.

Today's practice phrases contain several variations of the verb "volar." See if you can learn them with the help of the automatic recording that may be heard when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Yo volare a Mexico." (yoh voh-lah-REH-ah MEH-hee-koh)

IRS Questions/Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I am moving next month and have not received my refund. Who should I give my new address to?

A — If your refund has not arrived by the time you move, give your postmaster your new address. Your refund can be forwarded to you at the new address.

Thousands of refund checks are held up each year in IRS offices because taxpayers have moved without leaving forwarding addresses. When a check has been returned by the Post Office, it is held until the taxpayer either writes IRS or files another return giving his new address. The refund is then sent to the taxpayer or applied to any tax he may then owe.

Q — I forgot one of my W-2 forms when I filed my joint return. Should I send it in now?

A — If you included the income and tax withholding data from the W-2 on the income tax return you filed, wait until you are contacted by IRS. You will be asked to supply the missing W-2 form.

However, if you did not include the wage and tax data from the W-2 on your return, then you should file Form 1040X, Amended U. S. Individual Income Tax Return. Fill out this form completely according to the instructions and send it with the W-2 to the Internal Revenue Service Center serving your district. Copies of Form 1040X are available at IRS offices.

Q — Do you have anything that shows the filing deadlines for the taxes a small business has to pay?

A — Yes, IRS has a Tax Calendar and Check List for 1969. For a free copy send a post card to your District Office and ask for Publication 509.

Q — My son won a savings bond as the best English student in his graduating class. Would the value of the bond be taxable income to him?

A — Whether the prize is taxable or not depends on the circumstances under which it was won. If your son had to perform a specific act to win the prize, such as write an essay or develop an experiment, the prize would be taxable.

A prize given in recognition of past accomplishments in religious, charitable, scientific, artistic, educational, literary or athletic fields is not taxable if the recipient is selected without action on his part and is not expected to render future services as a condition of receiving the award.

The ballet is being choreographed by Comelin along with Maria Fielding, director of the Civic Youth Ballet, a group which is sponsored by the San Diego Recreation Department.

Comelin, a principal with the National Ballet Company in Washington, D.C., performed here last summer with the California Ballet Company. He also taught several master classes for Miss Fielding's group at that time.

Principal female dancers appearing with Comelin will be Lydia Morales as the enchanting Anisa, Celeste Wasilk as the beautiful and haughty Contessa, Nancy D'Amato as the spirited and jealous Bruja, and Gail Coppedge as Donna Gallo, the mask maker.

Social Security News

This newspaper presents this question and answer column about the Social Security program as a public service to our readers. The questions are those most frequently asked about Social Security. The answers are provided by Sumio Oto, El Cajon Social Security Office Manager.

Q. I am nearly 65 and I still teach school ten months of each year. I have been told that I could receive social security checks for the months I do not work. Is this true?

A. Yes. If you have worked under social security long enough to be insured, you can receive benefits for any month in which you neither earn wages of more than $140 nor perform substantial services in self-employment, regardless of your total earnings for the year.

Q. Are withdrawal treatments for narcotics addiction covered under Medicare?

A. Yes. Reimbursement could be made for these services if provided by a physician, or under his supervision, and if they are reasonable and necessary.

Q. I have 3 young children. I understand that if my husband should die, the children could get social security benefits. I also work and have social security coverage. If I should die, would the children receive anything?

A. Yes. If you have worked under social security long enough to be insured, your children could receive monthly benefits on your record, just as they could in case of your husband's death.

Q. I receive monthly disability payments and am 60. Am I eligible for Medicare?

A. No. Medicare is available only to people 65 or older.

If you have further questions regarding the Social Security Law, contact or write the Social Security Office, 570 North Second st., El Cajon, Calif., 92021. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and until 7:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. The telephone number is 442-0851.

discuss his guilt nor innocence. He had admitted the three murders and the assault.

In the second criminal report, it was a crime against the state. Here justice was swift, severe and uncompromising. In this one, a state bureau, the State Board of Equalization, had charged an Oakland man with the sale of untaxed cigarettes.

Specifically, the Board charged that Robert Eugene Willard, 43, had tried to sell 10 cartons of contraband cigarettes for $2 a carton. He was caught in a shopping center bar where he was attempting to negotiate the sale. He was fined $25 a carton for his misconduct and is presently serving a year in jail.

His crime was against the state's bureau and the charge was selling cigarettes without California State tax stamps on the packages. The Court did not go the limit, however. He could have suffered a $500 fine, in addition.

The recitation of these two crimes is for the purpose of dramatizing the strong posture of the State's bureaus, commissions and agencies as compared to our spineless courts. In many instances, bureaus have usurped the prerogatives of the people by holding court, with their own personnel as judge, jury and prosecuting attorney. More and more of the State's residents are beginning to resent this tyranny.

One stalwart, Assemblyman John Stull, (R-Leucadia) has addressed himself to the situation.

Stull has drawn a first battle line over which he plans to wage war against the arbitrary action of public agencies in their relations with the general public.

"Citizens are hauled before boards and commissions and told to pay higher taxes than their land is worth or arbitrary decisions are made by such boards as to re-zone property, yet when the citizen turns to the courts for a decision, the attorney's fees and other costs must be borne by him," Stull said.

His point in this is that the public finds itself in a position of having its own tax money used in an action against him.

"In most instances the average citizens is financially unable to bear the high costs of fighting city hall and swallows whatever order is forced down his throat," Stull said.

So the lawmaker has introduced legislation which would provide some reimbursement to the citizen who feels he is right and city hall is wrong and takes the matter into court—and wins.

He said that such legislation would make public agencies more cautious about carrying through certain actions unless it is backed up by substantial proof.

Stull's bill would require public agencies to pay court costs, attorney fees and any reasonable damages if the citizen wins the case.

"The public will again be established as sovereign," Stull said, "and the public agency will retain its rightful place as a servant of the people."

All of Stull's bill is good — but not good enough. It must be expanded to penalize the bureau chief under whose administration some of these arbitrary rulings and actions take place. This is proper because he is wasting taxpayer's money to pay off an aggrieved taxpayer who became aggrieved when his minions took an arbitrary action — an action which was paid for with taxpayer's money.

Stull should also call for a return to democratic principles in the conduct of the state's business. No dictator could ask for more than having the lawmakers, police, prosecuting attorney, judge and jury in his hip pocket.

Yet, every bureau in the state enjoys such an arrangement.

Mulder Street Resident Threatens Trespass Action

Mrs. Grace C. Miller, of 2501 Mulder st., Lemon Grove, told school officials this week that trespassing would not be permitted on her property beginning at once.

Mrs. Miller, in a communication to this newspaper, said that she and a neighbor had agreed, five years ago, to allow youngsters on Mulder and Haven streets to go to and from school through the property to ease the hazard of walking the two-lane Palm st. route.

Users totaled six or seven in number to start. Now more than 100 have been counted on weekends including bikes, strollers, dogs, cats, a horse and a pony, she said.

She claims that a control sign she had erected was torn down, and the chain on a locked gate was repeatedly broken, and that considerable vandalism has followed.

New restriction signs have been erected, she said, and violators will be prosecuted.

Simultaneous notices were sent to Mt. Miguel high school; Mt. Vernon school and Palm Jr. high school.

Salvation Army Week

Salvation Army Week will be observed in San Diego County this week.

Scout Fair Draws 50,000

An enthusiastic crowd of more than 50,000 filled the Del Mar Fairgrounds last Saturday for San Diego County Scouting's biggest event of the year — the 20th annual Scout Fair.

Purpose of the Fair, as announced by General Chairman Ed Butler, was to show Scouting to the public and to provide units with one annual fund-raising opportunity.

A record number of Cub, Boy, and Explorer Scout units — 400, representing the County's 30,000 Scouts — took part in the Fair. Of these, 70 were service units, performing traffic control and first aid duties, as well as assembling and taking down exhibits.

Over 300 units put on demonstrations and exhibited Scouting activities ranging from open-fire cooking to mountain climbing, outer space exploration to oceanographic research.

An opening flag raising ceremony at 11:30 a.m., performed by Boy Scout Troop 559 of Pacific Beach, started the festivities at the Fairgrounds. And at 2 p.m., the crowd jammed the grandstands for a family variety stage show starring George Lindsey, who is "Goober" on television's "Mayberry R.F.D." show. Also featured in the show were singers Rita Moss, Frankie Laine, and Bruce Cloud; "The American Scene" musical group; the Naval Training Center Band; Television's Ken "Festus" Curtis of "Gunsmoke"; and Jay Siler's trained Australian sheep dogs.

Safety Dividends Ready For Schools
Safety pays — for the school districts of San Diego County. Superintendent of Schools, M. Ted Dixon received a check for $211,760.63 from the State Compensation Insurance Fund representing a partial return of premiums previously paid by the school districts of the county.

This dividend was possible because of the excellent safety record of the school districts for the 1965 and 1967 policy years. This dividend will be distributed among the districts of San Diego County.

Lemon Grove district will receive $4,327; La Mesa-Spring Valley will get $13,300.

Rattlesnakes On The Move Pose Danger For Spring Valley Youths

By TOMMY THOMAS

The fact that an eight-year-old Spring Valley boy was bitten by a rattlesnake May 3 and hospitalized, for at least two weeks, should sound a warning to other residents of Spring Valley.

David William Brown, son of Mrs. Beverly Brown of 8773 Leigh ave., Spring Valley, was struck on the vein of one hand. The boy (a student at La Presa Elementary School) said he thought the snake that bit him at the Leigh ave. address, was a rattler, but that it had no rattles. Taken to a hospital in a deputy sheriff's car, David had to immediately undergo treatment for the snakebite. He was reported on the mend as of May 9.

A spokesman for the La Presa School, said two students have been bitten by rattlesnakes at the school, so far this year. The school custodian has killed nine rattlesnakes on the schoolyard and students have been warned to be extremely careful where they play.

Several Spring Valley families have reported snakes in their yards.

A Spring Valley physician, speaking before the Spring Valley Rotary Club, last year, warned that the dry season (as it now is) is upon us. The once green vales and hills are becoming brown and crisp. Rattles and other snakes are beginning to migrate into the valleys and onto or behind rocks and bushes.

The doctor warned that people on outings should never travel alone, but go two or three together; in case of accidents a second party is there to help. Also, he pointed out, carry snakebite kits; they have saved many lives, and get the patient to a doctor as soon as possible. A short item (in the Women's Medical News?) on the danger of snakes should be of interest to all.

"The word snakebite has had its day as a comic excuse for the use of alcohol, but it's not a funny word at all to nearly 7,000 persons who experience its true meaning annually in the United States. Especially to those boys from 5 to 19 who suffer by far the highest rate of poisonous accidents.

"On the average only 15 of the snakebitten persons die each year, but again it is the young ones who suffer most. Their smaller size increases the ratio of units of venom injected to units of body weight. "Delay in treatment is one of the major factors in fatalities. The snakes responsible for 99 percent of all poisonous bites, are rattlers, cottonmouths and copperheads."

Trailer Parks Size To Come Under Control

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—Adoption of an emergency ordinance to require mobile home parks to have a minimum size of five acres will be considered by the county board of supervisors Monday at 11 a.m.

This recommendation has been made by a county staff committee but has not yet been received by the board.

The purpose is to end the practice of land owners in unzoned land of lot splitting their property into parcels as small as 6,000 square feet and then applying to the state for a mobile home park permit.

County Engineer David K. Speer said that one applicant had a map showing the creation of three small lots with the mobile homes in place and with the leach lines to serve them.

The committee will recommend to the board that the county take over enforcement of state regulations from the state on June 30.

The supervisors can adopt such a change without notice or hearing.

If adopted as an emergency measure, it would take effect immediately. The committee wants to forestall a concerted rush for lot splits for one-lot mobile home parks.

Another proposed change is that stored or parked travel trailers would not be allowed to be permanently connected to electric, water or sewer lines in both zoned and unzoned areas.

The purpose of this section is to prevent the trailer from being used as a second dwelling auxiliary structure or rooms.

Second Ring Card Set For S.D. Arena

San Diego International Sports Arena officials will be ready for plenty of action Monday night, when the second professional boxing card gets underway.

The action that concerns them will not only be in the ring as Venezuelan Lightweight Champion Roman Blanco takes on ninth ranked world lightweight Chango Carmona in the feature bout of the evening. It will be action outside the ring as well.

College representatives are: Mesa, John Kuman; State, Bob Gutzler; Grossmont, Bruce Hosetler.

Junior High representatives are: Pacific Beach, Brad Hurst; Einstein, Terry Schwartz; Marston, Fred Mertz; Muirlands, Peter Allmon; Roosevelt, Steve Thomas; Dana, Mike Wilson.

Blanco's crowd-pleasing style of fighting puts the fans in his corner. The hustling Venezuelan was the "trigger" which set off one of the worst riots in New York boxing history on November 15, 1968.

Gotham boxing fans, unhappy over Blanco coming off the short end of a decision to Ismael Laguna, former World's Lightweight Champion and now number one contender, began storming destructively around Madison Square Garden. When the dust had settled, over $25,000 worth of damage had been done to the new Garden.

Blanco had put pressure on Laguna from the first minute of the bout and had continued

Little League Pitchers Risk Arm Damage According To Survey

Berkeley, Calif. (WMNS) — A survey of 162 Little League players has revealed that every single pitcher suffered from bone and cartilage inflammation or some other elbow injury.

In citing this survey by medical researchers to a National Conference on Medical Aspects of Sports, Prof. G. Lawrence Rarick, University of California, said that only a few non-pitchers revealed damaged elbows.

Dr. Rarick pointed out that the danger of stress to joint structures during the growing years.

An aggressive attack throughout the fight. Fans, as well as seasoned ring observers, thought his loss was a bad decision.

Tickets are $3 general admission to $10 ringside.

Monte Vista Sports Roundup

By SCOTT McGAUGH

The Monarch cindermen placed nine men in the Grossmont League's pre-lims last Friday in preparation for the league finals to be held Friday at Mt. Miguel at 7 p.m.

Dave Carter turned in a 9:35.6 two-mile, just 6/10 of a second off his best mark set last week.

The top eight qualifiers in each of thirteen track and field events qualified for the league finals.

The Monarch golfers remained tied for first last week as they dropped Helix, 37 1/2-7 1/2, and then bounced El Cajon, 44-1.

Rob Vint carded the best round in the league this year as the Monarch duffer recorded a 67, five under par.

The Monarchs are now 11-0-1, the best in the school's history and are tied for first with the Santana Sultans.

The Monarch horsehiders played the role of spoiler as they surprised league-leading El Cajon, 1-0, on a two-hitter by Steve Mays.

It was Mays first varsity appearance this year as the hurler compiled a dismal 1-10 record on the Junior Varsity squad. The Monarchs also topped Santana, 5-3, as Roger Sommers went 3-for-3 and Bill McManaway went 2-for-2 with two RBI.

Sommers is currently hitting .397, good for second place in the league as the second baseman has five doubles and 12 RBI.

The Monarch swimmers stroked their way to a 73-23, win over El Capitan in their season finale.

Brad Julihn and Mark Hodges set a school record as the two aquamen each picked up three first places. The Monarchs swept four events and took first in eight of the eleven events.

Both the Frosh and Junior Varsity terminated undefeated seasons as the Freshmen won, 39-20, as did the Jayvees, 70-25.

The Monarch netmen split their final two matches of the season as they held back Granite Hills, 16 3/4 - 11 1/4 and then was dumped by Mt. Miguel, 19 1/4 - 8 3/4.

Collin Stillwagen went 7-1 for the week and completed the season with a 48-71 mark for a .873 percentage.
